SPIRITED TRADING

With an Increase Reported in Outside Commission Orders.

United States Steel Stocks Fell Into Neglect During the Day and Were Heavy

By Associated Press

New York, Aug. 14.—Trading today was spirited and commission houses reported an increase in outside orders. Developments shed no light on crops or the strike. U. S. Steel stocks fell into neglect during the day and were heavy. Common was 1/4 under yesterday's close and preferred was 3/4, but was consistently supported in the late drive and did not exceed their early low level.

In the final dealings buying to cover caused a general rise and the entire market closed steady. The closing rally brought U. S. Steel common to 44, its best price, and preferred rose to 93.

The bond market today was generally firm, but business continued in large volume. U. S. bonds all unchanged.

SENSATIONAL

Charges Made Against a Findlay Preacher.

Special to the Leader.

Findlay, O., Aug. 14.—After twenty-five years of service, a Presbyterian pastor, Rev. J. A. Green, of McComb, finds himself confronted with a petition in divorce containing the most sensational allegations in regard to his treatment of his family.

Last week his wife and three children suddenly departed from their home, taking with them most of the household goods. Mr. Green was absent at the time and appeared completely broken up over the strange disappearance of his family. He sought for and received the universal sympathy of the community and told astonishing tales of his wife's conduct during their twenty-eight years of married life.

Mrs. Green went to Wales, N. Y., where the story of her disappearance reached her through the newspapers.

ASPIRED TO THE STAGE.

It was claimed that her daughter, Cora, aged 27, aspired to become an actress, and that she had been encouraged in her infatuation by her mother. To clear herself of these suspicions and seeing that publicity ran no longer or be avoided, Mrs. Green yesterday filed her petition, in which she charges her husband with the most brutal treatment of her.

Ten years ago, she says, while she was in a delicate condition, he beat her unmercifully and drove her from the house. The latest indignity occurred last winter, when she claims, he pinched her and mistreated her and also threatened her daughter's life for interfering in her mother's behalf. He is alleged to have said on one occasion, while abusing her: "If I only had an ax, I'd finish you right."

SENTIMENT DIVIDED.

Public sentiment in McComb is about divided, and the greatest excitement prevails. Rev. Mr. Green has always been looked upon as a model man. His unflinching and gentleness of disposition endeared him to his congregation from the beginning of his pastorate in McComb, and many people are loath to believe that he is guilty of the charges made by his wife. In fact, more are ready to believe Mrs. Green of causing the trouble. It is claimed that the daughter, Cora, wanted to become an actress, and that her mother encouraged her in this desire. Cora Green is a beautiful girl and an accomplished musician, having graduated with honors from a Chicago conservatory. Her father's profession forbade his sanctioning her aspirations, and, it is claimed, she ran away to avoid his restraint.

A VERITABLE FIEND.

From Mrs. Green's petition it now appears that the hitherto genial minister of the Gospel was a veritable fiend, and had repeatedly beaten and abused not only his wife, but his daughter Cora and other members of the family as well. His rage seemed to be a sort of maniacal frenzy, and, during spells, Mrs. Green says, his temper was perfectly uncontrollable.

If the petition is a true recital of facts it will explain many little eccentricities of manner which the neighbors claimed rendered Mrs. Green a most unagreeable companion. She is said to have led a very retired life, which can now be accounted for on the ground that she was in constant fear of her husband. This, she claims, in her petition, was really the case, and her daughter Cora and two younger children, she says, stand ready to substantiate any statements she can make.

HELD UP

By Six Young Society Ladies and Kissed.

Special to the Leader.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 14.—At Taswell, a small town on the Southern Railroad in Crawford County, Robert F. Foss today caused the arrest of six young society girls whom he charges with kissing him in the public streets. Foss is a music teacher and recently went to Taswell. He is a disciple of the professor in the Chicago University who says he has never been kissed.

Foss has been going in the best of society at Taswell and it is alleged the girls grew tired of hearing him talk on the kissing subject. Yesterday afternoon six of the leading girls of the place got together and decided to give Foss a good kissing. "He says he has never been kissed," said the ringleader. "Let's give him enough to last him for a while."

The girls went to a street corner where they knew Foss would pass and waited for him. When he came upon them they bounced him and gave him a good kissing. He pleaded with them to let him go, but his words fell and deaf ears and the music teacher was not released until his lips had been showered with kisses. Foss waited until today when he went before Justice of the Peace Holden and filed an affidavit against the girls. The Court released the girls on bond and their cases will come up for trial in a few days.

The affair caused great excitement at Taswell and has become the town talk. The people regard it as a good joke on Foss and are in sympathy with the girls who caused all the trouble.

Pepsin Syrup Co.

Dear Sirs—I feel it my duty to write to you and let you know how much good your medicine has done for me. Twenty-three years ago I was taken with some kind of stomach trouble and I tried everything I heard of. They did me but little good. Three years ago neuralgia set in on me and I got so poor and weak that I could hardly walk—couldn't work any. My husband received a book through the mail, advertising your medicine, and he sent our little boy to the drug store to get one of your ten-cent bottles. I began to use it. It is strange to say, but it's the truth, the second dose I took gave me lots of relief. I kept on using it till I used it nearly one year and now I am nearly as strong as I used to be and can do any kind of work. I recommend it to all, for it seems to me it would cure anybody. I have gotten several to use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and they all say it has done them so much good. God bless Dr. Caldwell and his medicine for doing me so much good. Yours with respect,
